

Bee Honest: The Review

Working with couple's to build the perfect ceremony script gives me such joy. Every moment of your wedding day I am buzzing with excitement and I am grateful to be present to catch some of the light coming off of you and your sweetheart on that special day. I would love the opportunity to be a part of more couple's wedding days and as you probably noticed when you were planning your wedding, reviews make or break the moment when a new couple decides "you know what, I'm gonna call her."

If you have a few moments to write a review for me of your experience over the past months, I would be immensely grateful. Please also initial the bottom of this page to signify that you release me permission to share this review on my website, social media and with new couple's I meet who are still considering.
